Flower power

Anybody familiar with Leigh Neighbours will know that we're particularly proud of our hanging basket workshops which are popular with people right across our project area.

Every Spring and Autumn, we arrange a series of workshops to help make the area brighter and more cheerful.

Not only are these events instructive and fun, they are also great at bringing the community together. This Spring, we hosted three events including one at the community garden in Gordon Street; a second at Sacred Heart Parish Centre; and a third one by the car park on Railway Road.

Once again, our thanks to everybody who came to our events, and especially to the schools, businesses and community groups, True Colours and As in Eden, for their support.

Altogether, we have planted up nearly a hundred hanging baskets and troughs. And, thanks to the generosity of local people, we've also managed to raise over £80 for the foodbank, too!

PRINCE'S TRUST: THE A-TEAM

Pictured: Pupils from Sacred Heart Catholic Primary School and Leigh Central Primary School with students from the Prince's Trust Team Programme who transformed the landscaped areas outside the joint school entrance on Windermere Road.

We love it when a plan comes together. In fact, Leigh Neighbours positively thrives on it!

With some of our activities, that can be as far as our direct involvement goes... into the planning. Quite often, we focus behind the scenes on bringing people together and helping groups forge new partnerships.

Of all our local partnerships, one of our most valued is with The Prince's Trust. The Prince's Trust Team Programme, managed by the charity Groundwork, often calls on the community to nominate small, self-contained environmental projects for their students to get involved in, and so far have completed many such projects in our area (calling on additional support from Tracey, the local Tesco community champion).

So when we heard on the grapevine that the heads of both Leigh Central and Sacred Heart Catholic Primary Schools were wanting to have their shared front entrance landscaped, we stepped in and introduced them to the wonderful team at the Prince's Trust. The result...? Well, the picture speaks for itself!

If you'd like to suggest any landscaping projects which might be suitable for The Prince's Trust Team Programme, email us at info@lnpb.org.uk

Railway Road Revival – the latest update

In our last issue of NeighbourLeigh News, we asked people to let us know what they thought were the main issues which needed tackling on Railway Road. So far, we've had over a hundred responses to our survey, with respondents providing us with even more insight into the problems as well some interesting ideas for the future.

Many people expressed concern about anti-social behaviour, litter and the decline in small, independent retailers. Others focussed on the positives such as the architectural facades and the community spirit of the Leythers who live there. Given the scale of the response we've had, it will take us some time to collate your feedback but rest assured we will report back to you with the results as soon as possible, together with thoughts on our next steps. In the meantime, just to remind you of what we've done so far... we have:

- Carried out an intensive clean-up at the car park on Railway Road, which included picking up twenty bags of rubbish, clearing overgrowth and treating woodwork. (Thanks to all our volunteers!)
- Fitted brackets to properties along Railway Road for hanging baskets, followed up by a hanging basket workshop for local businesses and residents on the street. If your property on Railway Road was missed, and you didn't get a bracket or a hanging basket, email us at railwayroadrevival@lnpb.org.uk and we'll arrange to get one fitted.
- Hosted a Big Lunch get-together at the Coffee Stop on Railway Road, which provided us with another opportunity to get people's feedback.
- Carried out a survey of local residents and businesses. There's still chance to complete our survey. Simply visit www.lnpb.org.uk and follow the link.
- Hosted a 'walkabout' of the area with former MP Andy Burnham and Chief Executive of Wigan Council, Donna Hall, to discuss the issues.

Susan Gredecki, chair of Leigh Neighbours, says: "This is just the start. We're looking at lots of ideas to support the community and to tackle the issues, but it's a big challenge and there's no quick fix. The good news is we are beginning to make headway. We're especially encouraged by the positive momentum of support we're seeing from local businesses on Railway Road who appreciate what we're trying to do and are getting behind us. It's already clear to us that people feel very passionately about the project, which is great because the more energy and enthusiasm we can generate, the more we're ultimately likely to achieve."

Local people completed more than 30 surveys at our recent Big Lunch get-together on Railway Road.

No such thing as a free lunch...? Think again!

Leigh Neighbours recently invited local residents to join them for some complimentary refreshments as part of a national campaign which encourages people to get-together over food as a means of promoting community spirit.

Stephen Ruffley of Leigh Neighbours, says: "The ethos behind The Big Lunch - building community spirit - encapsulates everything we do. Over the previous four years, we've supported community groups and schools by giving them the funding to host their own Big Lunch event. But this year also marks the first time we laid on our own Big Lunch, and it proved really popular with local people.

"Altogether, we welcomed nearly a hundred people to our free event at the Coffee Stop café on Railway Road. We were delighted to see familiar faces and to make new acquaintances. We know of several people who left our lunch having made new friends - which of course is what Leigh Neighbours is all about!"

If you're interested in organising an event in our project area to build greater community spirit, email info@lnpb.org.uk

Art from the heart

Year 3 pupils from St Mary's on Walmesley Rd recently organised an art exhibition at the school to display some of their summer-inspired works of art. To see more pictures, visit www.lnpb.org.uk

The BIG BIKE Revival

Leigh Central pupils, Aaron Taylor (10), brother Paul (5) and sister Hannah-Leigh (11), took their bikes along to our recent workshop to have them serviced ready for summer. The event, held on the playground of the Windermere Road school, is one of many workshops run by specialists, Gearing Up, as part of The Big Bike Revival which aims to get cyclists back in the saddle. Simon Dale and Chris Evans from Gearing Up are pictured (above) with the Taylors after servicing over twenty bikes at the workshop.
